

The Self-Help Legal Information Network
Basic Service Agreement
(Disclaimer)

This service is not to be taken as legal advice or considered advice from an attorney. We are not attorneys and this is not a law firm we can only provide self help services at your specific direction. The county clerk doesn't evaluate or approve registrant's knowledge, experience, or quality of services. You may obtain information regarding free or low-cost representation from a local bar association, legal aid foundation or by contacting law enforcement if you feel you have been a victim of fraud, UPL (unauthorized practice of law) or any other injury.

We cannot provide advice, explanations, opinions, or recommendations regarding your legal rights, remedies, selection of forms, strategies, or defenses. This center provides legal assistance in document preparation performed by trained legal assistants. An attorney should be consulted for issues requiring legal representation or advice.

All fees must be paid in full before any services are rendered. Upon completion of your work you and an assistant can review it for accuracy. Once the work has commenced you may obtain a pro-rated refund based on the services not completed. Once the services are completed there is no refund unless there is good cause, or an uncorrectable error on the part of the Network.

Your signature below indicates that you agree to have documents completed with information obtained via the internet and accept all responsibility with regards to your claim or legal action. Further you agree to the terms within this general disclaimer.
